Constipated 30 Years

"For thirty years I had stubborn constipation, awful gas bloating, headaches and pains in the back. Adierika helped right away. Now, I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want and never feel better."—Mrs. Mabel Schott.—McFarland & Robinson, Drugist—Adv.

Two Cars Collide

A 1936 Lafayette coupe, driven by Perry Dyer of Higginsville, collided with a Chevrolet coupe, driven by Herbert Berlin, 322 North Memorial avenue, at the intersection of Broadway and Grand avenue at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The front

SAUSAGES GIVE GOOD FOOD VALUE

"How about a little nip of sausage?" may have been the whispered query of a Roman bootlegger long ago.

For in the early days of the Christian church, sausage, because of its popularity at feasts and revels, was banned for a time as an instrument of the devil.

But it was too popular to be banned for long. It is a matter of history that the decree was repealed; and in the meantime, there must have been non-conformists who were only too ready to slip a slice of sausage inside their boots and step out to make a little extra legal money.

It was in the Middle Ages, when the guild craftsmen reached their power, that sausage making became an art. How patiently the old Italian butchers must have worked to perfect the blending of meat, wine, and strong spices that made the sausage of that romantic land so famous. Here was a beginning of artistry in food, to rival the growth of the other arts.

In Germany, where winters were colder, elaborate preparations for preserving sausage were not necessary. Through the long centuries the students at their corps meeting halls, and the burgomasters in their beer gardens, would sit through many an evening—smoking, drinking, and eating sausage with rye bread.

Everyone has read a lot about liver in the last few years. It has been a favorite food with many people for a long time, but the discovery that it was a particularly valuable food in combating certain diseases greatly increased its popularity.

Liver Sausage Liked
One of the favorite liver foods

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

is liver sausages. Goose liver sausage is a choice food today in Germany and France, and a small quantity is sold in the United States. However, the most popular liver sausage sold in this country is a product made primarily of beef, veal and pork livers.

Research into the food value of liver has developed the fact that pork, beef, veal and lamb livers are almost equally valuable—although veal liver is sometimes preferred because it is slightly more tender than the other. When the livers are combined in liver sausage, the consumer gets the benefit of low prices, high food value, and a delicious flavor.

Bologna is one of the most popular of the many sausages and ready-to-serve meats.

The food value of bologna is high. It is rich in protein; fairly high in energy content, and 100 per cent edible, of course, with no waste whatever.

The various kinds of sausages are ideal for use in appetizers. For example, small pork sausages, or frankfurters, or Vienna style sausages cut into small pieces are used by many housewives.

No. 1 THE SILHOUETTE—is straight, with skirt fullness (if any) pulled to the front. — The new feature is the "Corseted" effect which, surprisingly, is flattering to practically all types and figures.

No. 2 THE ACCENT

Dresses are basically simple. The individual distinction is achieved with shirring and tucking of the material, and with the use of unusual metal clips and buckles.

No. 3 THE COLORS

Black leads again in popularity and style importance but green, rust and wine are in high favor. — This seasons browns are in fur or wood tones and the only blue is a "stone" shade.

Below—Tucked sleeves in smart three quarter length, tucked panels on skirt. This crepe example is made in green, wine, rust.

Below—The corseted effect, shirring, front fullness and smart metal buckle distinguish this long sleeved crepe.

THE WISDOM OF THE CHINESE

● One thousand years ago, the Chinese had discovered gunpowder, invented and learned how to use the mariner's compass, and were printing books.

Incredible? Not more so, certainly, than the fact that they used GAS for lighting purposes more than five hundred years before the discovery of America.

Amazing as this fact may seem, when it is considered that it was not until the seventeenth century that Europe heard of gas...the Chinese were not fully equal to its technique.

Nor, of course, did they ever take steps toward applying gas to househeating.
Only in the last fifty years have the possibilities of gas heating been developed ...and then only after constant and rigorous research in engineering and chemical laboratory devoted to making gas heat the finest form of heating known.

Using equipment without moving parts to wear and grow noisy with age...employing a clean, silent, and bulkless fuel, modern automatic gas heat combines uniform, measured warmth with economy of operation to provide the most convenient, even, agreeable, and carefree means of insuring winter comfort that modern scientific technique can devise.

It has freed the modern home from the drudgery of furnace bondage.

... Be sure to vote here for your favorite Civic Club or other organization. And don't forget to look over the latest in Gas Heating Equipment — we have it.

The Better Wool and Mutton 4-H Ewe and Lamb Club of the Smithton community met at the home of J. W. and Billy Rissler Monday night, September 20, at which time they completed their club work for 1937 and reorganized for the year of 1938. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

John Sneed—President.

George Demand—Vice-President.

J. B. Morris—Secretary-Treasurer.

Billy Morris—Reporter.

J. W. Rissler—Song and Game Leader.

Billy Rissler—Sergeant-at-Arms.

This club during the past year has done some outstanding work in connection with judging work, club tours, showing of fleeces in the District Wool Show, and showing lambs in the 4-H Club classes at the Missouri State Fair. Four of the members showed fleeces at the District Wool Show which was held at Sedalia this spring at which time they won two ribbons and two cash prizes. At the Missouri State Fair, a total of seventeen ribbons were won by three members who showed ten lambs. A total of $55 in cash awards was won. At the 4-H Club Tour, which was held the latter part of July, these boys received instructions in judging lambs and blocking lambs for show. They have been following the recommendations of the Missouri College of Agriculture in the care and management of their flocks.

The first regular meeting of the club for 1938 will be held the night of October 15 at the home of John Sneed. Any boys interested in becoming members of this club should attend this meeting.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

THE SLOTS 40 YEARS AGO

The trouble with the slot machines today seems to be about the same as it was when the first ones put in an appearance in Kansas City 40 years ago—the temptation it offers boys.

In 1897 Justice Ben Spitz declared that slot machines are not gambling devices. Immediately an Indianapolis concern arranged to increase the number of its machines to 200 in Kansas City saloons. This "latest form of gambling device" as it was then described was a large oak concern, bigger than an upright piano. At the top was a large wheel on which were various colors. The customer inserted a nickel in the slot, chose a color and tried to hit. When the first one was installed in Wachter's saloon on Twelfth street, men crowded around it and actually quarrelled for turn to play.

The machines were a constant temptation to boys. Several errand boys lost their places and reputation for honesty the first week in trying to procure money to play the machines. The manager of a large manufacturing concern in Kansas City discovered his office boy was actually stealing stamps, exchanging them for nickels from a foreigner and playing the machines.

Today the situation is not much different—or rather wasn't since Governor Stark's order went out to clean them up. Sedalia youths were not immune to the same temptation their elders experienced 40 years ago. School children actually spent their lunch money to gamble on these devices, preferring to go hungry rather than forego the excitement of pulling the lever and seeing the wheels almost spin them for a few nickels gain.

A hue and cry was raised over the slot machines 40 years ago. It is the same today. Sedalia wants no more of them.

There is no animal that may be used as a beast of burden native to Australia.

The greatest triumph of the season for fashion designers seems to be those new hats which appear on the verge of blowing right off the fair wearer's head.

Modern bombing squadron commander to his men, after the successful blasting of a great city: "Don't cheer, boys, the poor devils were just another bunch of non-combatants."

Germany is said to have developed a noiseless airplane. It may be noiseless, but if the story is true you can bet a number of European countries heard about that airplane long ago.

This is the time of year when the much-maligned Sunday drivers begin to look like the personification of care when compared with the Saturday drivers—bound home from football games.

Hitler wants Germany's old colonies back, saying such a return is only fair. O. K. by us, if he agrees that Germany, when she gets them back, will return the colonies to the natives from whom they were seized in the first place.

Up to now the Chinese-Japanese war has been confined to Chinese and Japanese. However, we'll bet the reason some of the European countries meddling in Spain aren't interfering in Asia is because the traveling expenses would be too high.

SEAS TO HAVE PLANE JUNCTIONS

From the Toronto Globe and Mail.

Is the time coming when the oceans will be dotted with floating platforms for the accommodation of airplanes? That, at all events, is what is contemplated by the inventive genius of man. Los Angeles financiers and civic leaders are discussing a 3-million-dollar seadrome to be located somewhere between the Pacific coast and the Hawaiian Islands. An Australian engineer has the plans ready. This seadrome would rise 117 feet above water, be 2,000 feet long and 400 feet wide, and its construction would provide work for 10,000 men during two years. Then it would be towed to a decided mooring place.

This amazing plan is in keeping with the equally amazing progress being made in aviation. With such seadromes moored at intervals along the ocean air routes, aerial travel would lose a great deal of its chief terror—crashing in mid-ocean. In case of trouble there always would be the chance of "making" one of these floating havens.

Doubtless the next generation will see stations about the oceans, where passengers may change planes as they now change trains on a land journey; though at a cost of 30 million dollars each these "junctions" may, for a lifetime, be few and far between.

SPEED REAL TRAFFIC VILLAIN

Washington's police authorities, like those of Baltimore, are much concerned over the rising number of motor car accidents. They recently held a meeting to discover the causes of the increase and as a result have undertaken the usual "drive."

Here are the motoring practices that the police of Washington are going to try to stop:

1. Turning from improper lanes.
2. Failing to give proper hand signals and right of way.
3. Parking too close to busy intersections.

All these practices are annoying and frequently dangerous, as all motorists well know. But the idea that discouraging them will cause any considerable decrease in the accident rate, and especially in the death and injury rate, seems a little overoptimistic.

After all, such things as these are particularly noticeable in congested downtown streets where traffic movement is normally slow. If they could be cured, traffic could be speeded up in crowded areas and there would be fewer frayed tempers and fewer smashed fenders.

But none of them touches the real demon that haunts the highways, the demon of high speed where high speed is dangerous. We hope the people of Washington will not expect too much from this new drive.

Anyway, Adolf is a little late—19 years or so—in trying to convince the world that the big scrap game of 1914-1918 wasn't "for keeps."

Looking Backward

FROM FILES OF THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT

FORTY YEARS AGO

Miss Jennie Ware, daughter of Col. John A. Ware, left yesterday afternoon for Godfrey, Ill., to resume studies at Monticello seminary.

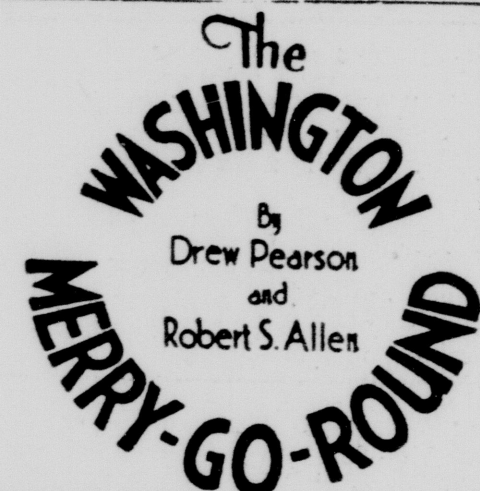

Among officers elected by the Women's Relief Corps, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, in convention here today were the following: Mrs. Mary B. Evans, Green Ridge, senior vice president; Mrs. Frankie Mount, Sedalia, junior vice president; Mrs. C. Watson, Sedalia, was elected delegate to the national convention in Cincinnati, and Mrs. Nannie Walker, Green Ridge, alternate.

Grand Marshal F. E. Hoffman has selected as his assistants for the German-American day celebration in September, the following: Charles Hoberrecht, A. W. Winzenburg, Charles Koeppen, Charles Kooch, Charles F. Walch and Ira Hinsdale. The contract for refreshments was let to Charles Wentzleman.

C. T. Whisman has purchased of H. M. Moser one-half interest in the Metropolitan barber shop, 225 South Ohio street.

Dr. A. Y. Hull, founder and editor of the old Sedalia Democrat, now 80 years old and still hale and hearty, arrived this morning from Indianapolis to visit old-time friends before going to western Kansas to be with his son who is in the newspaper business.

The town clock that for years stood in front of the place of business of the late Charles G. Taylor, is this afternoon being removed to the front of Bichsel Bros.' store.

WASHINGTON — In the United States, Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, is considered a bitter enemy of John L. Lewis and the CIO. But although it has not leaked out here yet, Woll recently made a speech in Poland in which he praised Lewis and reported that the CIO and AFL were coming closer and closer together.

Reason for Matt's sudden friendship for the CIO was the fact that the International Federation of Trade Unions, meeting in Warsaw, delayed admitting him and other A. F. of L. delegates because of their CIO attitude.

A first-hand report of the entire incident was brought to Washington the other day by Alejandro Carillo, a Mexican delegate to the IFTU meeting in Warsaw.

He said that France, the Scandinavian countries and Mexico all opposed the admission of the A. F. of L. Delay and debate continued for two days. Finally Matt Woll made his sensational speech.

He had spoken on the first day of the conference—without one mention of CIO. But this time, according to Carillo, he was loud in its praise.

"The internal labor dispute in the United States has been grossly exaggerated in the press," Carillo quotes Woll as saying. "It will soon be settled in comradely fashion."

Woll eulogized John L. Lewis in the highest terms, according to Carillo, and concluded:

"Why, just the other day, Mr. Lewis, David Dubinsky and I were together at a meeting of clothing workers in New York."

What Matt Woll forgot to add was that the gentlemen in question were at the meeting on entirely different days.

It was only after receiving these assurances that the convention moved to admit the A. F. of L.

Radical Eugene Meyer

Eugene Meyer, millionaire editor of The Washington Post, former Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, and former director of the War Finance Corporation, has a son, Eugene, Jr., of whom he is very proud.

Not long ago Eugene Junior's picture was published in the paper and a friend congratulated Meyer on what a fine-looking boy he had.

"Yes," replied Meyer with a tone of discouragement in his voice. "But he's getting to be quite a radical. He wants to study medicine."

New Political Base

The complete rout of Tammany Hall in the New York City primaries was a political lesson of possible greater significance than the surface issues. It showed not only that throwing bricks at the New Deal does not win votes—not yet, anyway—but also demonstrated that old-time party tactics no longer work in modern big cities.

Incidentally, it also brought into bold relief the fact that ex-Governor Al Smith is completely washed up as a popular leader.

What is happening in New York is that neighborhood politics is disappearing, along with neighborhood social life. In many sections of the city it has disappeared altogether. In its place has risen a realignment of the voters along the lines of their vocation and economic position.

One source of Tammany's strength was the social unity of blocs of voters living in the same district. This was fostered in the local political clubs and corner bars, and by picnics, "block parties" and the like. People knew and mingled with their neighbors, voted for members of "their own crowd."

That geographical division of the city has broken down. The average New Yorker's social group is now composed of acquaintances scattered all over the city, and tied together by common interest in a labor union, line of business, or some other factor instead of mere proximity. Proportional representation, under which City Council men will be selected by a mathematical system based on the city-wide vote, rather than by districts, is going to hasten the process.

Futile Strategy
Tammany, however, tried to campaign in the same old way. How futile its strategy was is illustrated by a meeting of Brooklyn Democrats which Al Smith addressed. The hall was half-filled. The meeting opened with the same old cries of "Give it to 'em, Al!" But the old master was not the same: the old fire and enthusiasm were gone. He seemed to realize that even his friends would not be aroused by old appeals.

Chapter 7 of "Rustle of Silks" scheduled for publication on this page today will appear with Chapter 8 in Friday afternoon's Democrat.

Smith made his principal point by adding the federal, state and city debts together to the grand total of 40 billions, which would have to be paid someday out of taxes. His voice grew tired. Applause was meagre. And when the votes were counted Smith's crowd had lost Brooklyn, and every other borough except Manhattan, by sizeable pluralities.

DUST HANDICAP TO GRID PRACTICE ON A DRY FIELD

Willing Tryouts Must Show More Speed and Form To Make Team

The prospects of having a "sweeping, victorious and winning" football team are very dark, from the appearances of the forty-four players who are trudging through the dirt and dust each afternoon on the Smith-Cotton football gridiron.

Coach Donald Davenport, head tutor of the athletes and his able assistant Coach Joe Benson, don't have the big smiles which were expected when more than fifty boys reported for football practice this fall. They have whittled the number to four teams and are daily driving them through tough practice.

The boys are willing but apparently are not grasping the "idea" as they should after nearly three weeks of drilling. With the first game of the season about a week off, much is to be done if they expect to make any kind of an impression against the Richmond high school team.

There is hardly a boy on the local practicing squads who isn't suffering from some kind of an injury with skinned elbows, knees and hips, which have been caused from the "iron-top" gridiron, made so because of the lack of rain. The field has been so dusty the players hardly know where they are when a play has been completed, which has made it fifty per cent more difficult for players and the coaches.

Field Is Flooded
Tuesday night the entire field was flooded with water in hopes it would soften the field and settle the dust, results the extreme heat on Wednesday dried up the ground and made it just a little harder.

To make matters a little more serious, the loss of Roswell Beach, 175 pound player who injured his ankle, is being felt. Beach is expected to be out the early part of the season.

As Coach Davenport put it, "early appearances, my guards are slow, my tackles fair, I have material for ends but they must learn, while the backfield is extremely slow."

Davenport and Benson are giving special attention to the players in hopes they can have their troubles ironed out by next week.

The first game is scheduled for October 1 at Liberty Park, but plans are being made to change the date to Thursday, September 30, if possible.

"Cushion" Shaving Ends Dry Skin Torture

Dry skin makes shaving a hazard. It's the oil in your skin that lubricates the razor edge and forms a "cushion" of protective film. Without oil, the blade scrapes along with a harsh "pull" nicking rough spots and grating the skin into red sores.

Now every man with dry, tender skin can give himself a "cushion" shave—free from razor-burns and nicks.

Mentholatum Brushless Shave softens up rough, dry skin, and applies a "cushion" of smoothness. Then the blade glides with the ease of a soaring bird. What's more it will ease the worst stubble as it has never been wilted before—to be moved down in the cleanest closest shave you've ever had.

Try a tube of Mentholatum Brushless Shave for one week at our risk. Unless you think enough of it to rush and tell your friends about it, your money will be returned. Start "cushion" shaving today.

By LES FORGRAVE

THE TRIUMVIRATE
By MARTHA LOGAN
Three cakes from one is the triumvirate we refer to. In the small family, there is often the problem of tiring of a cake before it is all used. The remedy we suggest is to make three different desserts from the one batter. The finished products are so different that one would never guess they originated from the same mixing bowl.

For the foundation, we use a good plain cake recipe, and then divide the batter so that we have a luscious torte for today, date cup cakes for tomorrow, and peanut bars for the next day. The cup cakes and nut bars keep nicely in a closed cake box and really improve in flavor during the day or two storing period, but the torte is best eaten fresh because of the custard filling.

Although our plan is aimed to help out one who is "cooking for two," a similar time-saving plan may be used in larger families by doubling the basic plain cake recipe.

First of all, let us caution that the name "plain cake" is rather deceiving, because if this cake is properly made, the cake will be velvety in crumb, moist, and delicious. Cake technique is worthy of attention because the same eggs, milk flour, sugar, etc., may be combined to produce a prize winner or a failure. It's all in knowing how.

A word of advice as to ingredients may help. Buy fresh eggs, and for the shortening, use a sweet neutral flavored margarine or butter for this recipe. As to flour, we think that cake flour gives finer results, although a well sifted all purpose flour—used in scant measure—may be used.

We are giving here the basic recipe with the hand mixed and the mechanical mixed methods. Then some of our suggestions for variations.

Plain Cake

6 tablespoons margarine or butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 cups cake flour
3 tablespoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup milk
Flavoring.

Method 1: Cream the margarine or butter thoroughly. Add sifted sugar gradually and beat well. Add one egg at a time, beating very well. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt and add alternately to the creamed mixture with the milk, adding the flour first and last. Caution! Mix, do not beat the batter after the flour is added lest you beat out the air incorporated during the creaming period. Use your energy on the creaming process and be gentle during the final combining period.

Method 2: For a mechanical mixer, the process is very easy. Use high speed for creaming the fat and sugar until it is very fluffy and light. Keep the sides of the bowl wiped down into the center to get the full benefit of the beaters. Now add the sifted flour and baking powder. Mix at low speed just enough to blend—about 1/2 minute. Use a spatula to help this process. Add all the milk. Mix for 2 minutes at low speed. Add unbeaten eggs and continue mixing at low speed for 3 minutes.

Variations
Spread one third of the batter in a 7-inch round cake pan—the bottom covered with waxed paper.

Martha Logan Cooks - - - A Crown Roast of Veal

We're planning a dinner party for this week-end and, of course, the first thing we decided on was the meat. This time it's going to be a Crown Roast of Veal. To be on the safe side we planned the meat man two days early to tell him to fix up a 14 lb crown roast of fresh, tender, fine quality veal for our party Saturday. We reminded him to shape the ends of the ribs so we could fit on little boiled onions like

"jewels in the crown." We also told him to be sure to take off the backbone so friend husband could easily cut between each rib and carve safely and quickly.

Perhaps we should add that we use a well seasoned bread and nut dressing inside the crown—never peas or any really vegetable to embarrass the carver.

As to roasting—cover the rib ends with salt pork or waxed paper.

Roast in a slow oven (325° F.), allowing 25 minutes to the pound. Veal is always served well done because the flavor and texture is better developed when well cooked.

If you use a meat thermometer, cook until the inside of the roast is 170° F.

For garnish, we suggest parsley potatoes, green peppers stuffed with creamed yellow corn, and cinnamon apples.

1 cup powdered sugar
Flavoring.
Pinch salt.
Combine the first three ingredients. Beat in sifted powdered sugar until stiff enough to spread. Add flavoring. Beat thoroughly.
Chocolate Butter Frosting
To the above recipe add 1/4 cup cocoa to the hot water and margarine.

LITTLE CHANGE ON CORN; WHEAT IS UP

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A reduction of 1,386,000 bushels in uncompleted September contracts was announced today, and although prices during most of the day averaged moderately higher, the close for September was 1/4 to 1/2 cent a bushel net lower.

The total open interest in September corn was 8,839,000 bushels, and there remained three trading days yet to even up September corn accounts without physical deliveries. No notices were given today that any tenders of such deliveries on September contracts would be made tomorrow.

At the close, the corn market was a

Kirkpatrick, his wife by her deed of trust dated February 1, 1923, filed in the office of Recorder of Deeds of Pettis County, Missouri, at Sedalia, and recorded in Book 267, at page 27, did convey unto Kansas City Finance Company, as trustee, for the purpose of securing the indebtedness mentioned in said deed of trust, the following described real estate situated in Pettis County, Missouri, to-wit:

The West Half of Lots One and Two (1-2) of the Northwest Fractional Quarter of Section One (1), Township Forty-Six (46), Range Twenty-Three (23) West, containing Ninety-One and One Third (91 1/3) acres, more or less.

And whereas, said deed of trust provides that in case the trustee therein named, by reason of resignation or disability shall fail to perform said trust as therein provided, then the legal holder of the note secured thereby shall have the power to substitute any other person as trustee, and that the party so substituted shall have the same powers as the trustee named therein and that the acts of said substituted trustee shall be as effective and binding upon all parties as if performed by the trustee named therein.

And whereas, the Kansas City Finance Company, the trustee, named in said deed of trust, is unable to perform the duties of trustee as mentioned therein and has heretofore resigned as trustee in said deed of trust.

GIVES UP $3,300 JOB TO PREACH FOR $700

LEWISTOWN, Mo., Sept. 23.—A municipal engineer, who gave up a $3,300-a-year job to become a supply preacher at $700 a year, had been recommended today for admission into the Missouri conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

The Rev. A. W. Kirby left his position as superintendent of the Marshall, Mo., water and light department three years ago to take the pastorate at Monticello, Mo. A year later, he was assigned to the Lewis-town circuit.

A graduate of Kansas State College at Manhattan, Kirby, 55 years old, "felt led in the direction of the ministry most of his life," the Rev. W. L. Myers of Hannibal, Mo., his presiding elder, said.

Recently, he turned down an offer of an engineering job, saying he had never been happier than he is now. He is married and has three children.

BUDDY GREET'S MARY AT K. C. AIRPORT

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23.—Mary Pickford stepped from a transcontinental airplane here today to visit her husband, Buddy Rogers.

Miss Pickford had "asked him not to come," but Buddy, here to appear at the Jubilesta with his dance band, was at the airport to greet her.

One of the many questions asked the Hollywood celebrity before she could push through the crowd was:

"Now, are you going to try domesticity, perhaps life on the Rogers farm in Kansas?"

The answer was "here's the boss, ask him. If he wants to live on a farm in Kansas, it is all right with me."

Miss Lenroot said she regarded a child labor amendment as absolutely essential to provide a "sufficiently broad basis for cooperation between the federal government and the states."
